

Pertinent Paragraphs

A bill introduced by Assemblyman Fred C. Hawes of San Francisco and passed without opposition in the lower house provides that upon being released from a state prison, convicts shall receive from the state $10 instead of the $5 with which formerly they were obliged to face a cold and unfriendly world. If the bill is signed by the governor at all it should be with an amendment calling for $100 rather than $10. Don't get the idea that our heart is full of pity for the average criminal—not so. Proceeding on the assumption that our prisons are houses of correction rather than houses of punishment, of how much value is a period of correction and industry to a man when he is released with five or ten dollars in his pocket and the stigma of the penitentiary upon him? He'll be good until his money is gone, and then unless he has exceptionally good luck or exceptionally true friends he will turn his hand to anything that will insure his livelihood—often to the very practice which led to his late incarceration. If a jail sentence is merely a form of punishment we are wasting a lot of good words, but we believe our assumption of the correction theory to be correct and so we urge that the corrected ones be given an even break—give them at least enough money to keep them until they secure employment or enough to enable them to leave the state. Our recommendation need not apply to the chronic jail-birds—$5 is too much to give them.

Senator Sanborn Young, one of the leading sportsmen of California's legislative body introduced an interesting bill in the upper house. If the measure becomes a law, cats that in years past enjoyed vacations with their owners in state and national forests, will hereafter be obliged to remain at home while the family goes primitive at Yosemite, the Big Basin or other vacation spots. Mr. Young insists that tame cats are prone to revert to the wild state when taken into the woods where they kill song birds and wreck the hunting and fishing possibilities of that particular place. The measure will receive the endorsement of thousands of sportsmen and other nature lovers.

The house of commons in session at Ottawa Feb. 26, through the special committee assigned to the revision of the opium and narcotic drug act, approved an amendment which will, if passed, give narcotic peddlers, in addition to other penalties, a taste of the lash. A most excellent idea and one which should be put into practice in the United States. In the days when nearly every sentence passed in Canada included a number of lashes there were few who cared to lay themselves liable to a second dose of the cat-o-nine-tails—and if anyone deserves to suffer the torture of the lash it is the vile, inhuman creature who provides other people with tickets to a pain filled and most fantastic hell.

That's all.

Woman's Club Hears Lecture, History of Song

The community hall was well filled Monday afternoon with members and guests of the Country Woman's club who enjoyed a remarkably fine program, following a brief business session at which two announcements were made. The first announcement called attention to the Federation pins which Mrs. Frederick Batte of Union district has for sale. The second suggested a sale and disposition of articles stored in one of the cupboards, at the next meeting.

Mrs. A. W. Page was voted into membership.

The committee of the day, Mrs. F. E. Peake, Mrs. J. D. Blaine, Mrs. George Husted and Mrs. C. E. Withers had been very fortunate in securing Mrs. Kathryn Gail Morrish to give a program of song that she had presented under the auspices of the P. T. A. of the Woodrow Wilson junior high school.

In this program the development of song was traced from the early folk song, through the art song to the modern song.

The audience was presented with mimeographed copies of the lecture which explained the various phases of song and named selections illustrating them, several of which Mrs. Morrish sang. Under folk songs she chose "O'er the Distant Lonely Mountain" (Russian), and the Negro spiritual, "Swing Low Sweet Chariot." Arranged folk song, "La Paloma" (Tuscan); adopted folk song, "The Loreley," by Phillip Silcher.

Section II., art song. The cultivated flowers of music. The strophic form is a song, all verses sung to the same tune. A lovely example is "Who is Sylvia," by Franz Schubert. The second type, "Durchompint," composed throughout, was illustrated by "The Eri-King," Franz Schubert and the third, Art Ballad, "O, Willow, Willow," arranged by Granville Bantock.

Section III.—Great song writers since Schubert's time.

Thanks, Boys

The Campbell Press narrowly averted a serious conflagration Thursday when a bottle of gasoline used in cleaning type was knocked to the floor and broken. Mrs. R. H. Knappen, who was alone in the office at the time, was fixing the fire, and the gasoline flamed up. She attempted to use the fire extinguisher which was new to her and not getting immediate results, called the telephone office.

T. A. Robinson rushed across with Mr. Whitman's extinguisher and the fire was soon out.

In the meantime the fire company responded to the call and were less than a minute and a half in getting out and on the job, which is certainly fast work for a volunteer company.

The sincere appreciation and thanks of Richard Knappen and Harry Smith are extended to all who responded so quickly to the S. O. S.

Among the many of these she sang Johannes Brahms' "Cradle Song" and Chadwick's "The Danza." IV., Oratorio—A more or less dramatic text or poem usually founded on a scripture theme. The illustration was "My Heart Ever Faithful" from Bach's "God So Loved the World."

Miss Lucy Valpey acted as accompanist for Mrs. Morrish.

The other feature of the program was equally wonderful—an account of the life of George Bernard Shaw, and a review of his book, which he called his "last will and testament to humanity."—"Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism and Capitalism." The review was presented by Mrs. Fjery Hess Watson.

Mrs. Watson is an adept in this line and her delineation of Shaw made him seem like a fellow townsman, and so real that it was much easier to grasp his ideas of the subjects touched upon. Mrs. Watson said that it is a hard book to sit down and read, but taken by bits and chapters is very interesting. Shaw has lived a very full life for 72 years and is as familiar with socialism as is surgeon with anatomy. He spent six years writing this book and it is well worth the time required to read it carefully.

Campbell Lads Meet Morgan Hill, Local Court

Tonight the Campbell high school 130-pounders will meet Morgan Hill on the local hardwood for the championship of the league, game called for 8 o'clock.

Coach Noddin's team broke the three-cornered tie in the Santa Clara Valley league by last week eliminating the Santa Clara high eagers in a tense battle featuring much holding of the ball and the missing by both teams of some easy shots. The very importance of the game had the lads on their toes and it is to be wondered that they held up as well as they did.

Santa Clara took a one point lead in the first quarter, but soon lost it and never regained the lead for an instant.

Lca was the star of the evening, several times saving what might have been a desperate situation. Cippola, captain of the Santa Clara aggregation, was high point man for his team.

The final score was 14 to 10.

INTREPID FIREMEN RUSH TO FIRE; CONFLAGRATION ALREADY DOUSED

Tuesday morning Campbellites were thrilled by the screaming of the fire siren—women wept and strong men shuddered. The firemen rushed to their posts and both fire engines dashed madly out of the firehouse. Scinting smoke that issued from the alley behind the Busy Bee they (the engines) took the corner on two wheels and before you could spit the boys had 300 yards of hose unreeled and were looking hungrily around for something to turn the water on.

Down the alley stood Harry White with an extinguisher in his hands, gazing ruefully at his still smoking automobile. The fire was out.

All joking aside, the boys gave an excellent demonstration of how quickly they can get to a fire when the need arises—and the engines are warm enough to start.

Solicitation For "Pinafore" Cast Scouts Building Includes Some Fnd Is Started Talented Folks

Plans have been completed for the campaign to raise $2,500 for a new boy scout-camp fire girls' building for Campbell district and solicitation began Tuesday.

The project is being sponsored by the Kiwanis club, aided by the Odd Fellows, firemen, scout and camp-fire groups. The scout committee, W. H. Stray, the Rev. Robins, Dr. W. I. Merrill, T. A. Cutting and G. R. Merriman, and camp-fire committee, Mrs. Louis Shelley, Mrs. W. H. Stray, Mrs. Frances Swane, Dr. Merrill and Miss Elsie Merrill are heartily behind the movement and will assist in the drive.

The finance plan is to issue pledge blanks with 12 one dollar coupons, one coupon being payable each month. This arrangement will make it possible for people to contribute toward the building without being inconvenienced financially.

The finance committee, consisting of Ralph Hyde, R. G. Archibald and H. Cramer, has appointed captains for solicitations as follows: Rev. J. H. Bennett, boy scouts; Mrs. Louis Shelley, camp-fire girls; Ed Merrill, Morning Light lodge; I. O. O. F.; Ed Genasci, firemen; J. E. Weisendanger, Moreland district; Louis Shelley, Cambrian district; George Burrow, San Tomas district; Lloyd Gardner, Hamilton district; C. H. Whitman, L. M. Beall, Russell Kennedy, Carl Field, Dr. W. I. Merrill, T. A. Cutting, Frank Cutting, Harold Morton, B. O. Curry, G. E. Farley, S. N. Hedegard and H. Cramer, Campbell.

COLD MEDICINE LANDS RANCH HAND IN THE COUNTY HOOSEGOW

Tuesday night George Barnes, at the request of suburbanites, took into custody one Peter Cortese, ranch hand who had run his car into an orchard near Campbell and gone to sleep there. The car, upon entering the orchard, scraped a tree, the noise causing the awakening of neighbors and the subsequent lodging in jail of Cortese.

Six bottle of fire water in the car was, according to Cortese, cold medicine given him by his daughter.

P. G. & E. SUB-STATION AT HAMILTON AND CENTRAL IMPROVED

The P. G. & E. sub-station located at the corners of Central and Hamilton avenues is undergoing alterations which will improve and enlarge the plant. Among other things is the installation of electric lights which light up the corner considerably. Previous to the electric company's improvement program this corner was in almost total darkness after sundown.

MILLER RESTAURANT BUILDING TO BE A SHOE REPAIR SHOP

The small building on Campbell avenue which has for several years housed Miller's cafe is being gutted by the wreckers and will be completely refinished inside as well as out.

The building will be occupied when completed by S. De Maria, who will open a shoe repair and sales room.

The comic opera, "Pinafore," the well-known classic by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be given Saturday evening, March 16, by the students of the Campbell Union high school in the grammar school auditorium.

Practically the whole story of "The Lass That Loved a Sailor" is told in song, but a bit of conversation is interspersed here and there for variety. The story has a well-tangled plot, but with a clever and happy denouement.

As rendered by the high school, there will be choruses with as high as 60 voices. Some of the girls' songs with harmony parts are the best in the opera—and there is nothing sweeter than the voices of young girls well trained in chorus work.

Much of the chorus and solo work is already nearing perfection in the rehearsals, and all of it should be smoothly polished before the date of the performance.

The opera is being given under the direction of Mrs. Marion Howes; pianist, Veva Nichols; scenery, Miss Johnson and Mr. Hughes; costumes, Goldsteins, Miss Johnson and Mrs. Howes; orchestra director, A. A. Thielke; ticket sale manager, R. E. Noddin; publicity, T. A. Cutting.

Principals in the cast are Mervyn Nichols, Glenn Willis, Stephen Merrill, Elmer Sundquist, Conrad Gaiser, Art Downing, Lawrence Templeton, Annette Merrill, Louise Freitas and Lola Di Denti.

Banquet To Be Main Feature of Alumni Party

A meeting of the general committee planning for the Campbell high alumni reunion met Tuesday evening at the St. Claire hotel, San Jose, at the call of Graham Peake, general chairman.

Plans for the reunion which had been made and which included a dance, card party and social time to be held in Campbell were abrogated and a banquet to be served at the St. Claire was substituted.

Committees were named as follows:

Decorations — Mrs. Irma Young Sanders, Mrs. Bernice Bogart Heinzen and Mrs. Thelma McCoy Adams.

Membership — Dan Yeager, Marion Austin and Mrs. Miriam Skiff Dunlap.

Reception — Roy Bartholomew, Fred Heinzen, Dan Yeager and Nancy Abinante.

EXCURSION OF PRESS ASSOCIATION TO MEXICO IS POSTPONED

Owing to the revolution being staged in Mexico the excursion of the California Press association to that turbulent republic was postponed one week, but as things now appear the postponement is very likely to become indefinite, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith, who were to have accompanied the party which was to have left Wednesday, are still with us. If the Mexico trip cannot be arranged the association will probably visit a place of interest where they will be less likely to be shot.

Who Got the Half Dollar?

Mark Purmort and assistant Lou Shelley were perpetrators of an enjoyable and interesting program for the men of Kiwanis Tuesday. Mark had secured the Kiwa Quartet, the members of which sang two pleasing numbers.

Lou Shelley pulled two trick stunts that still have some of us guessing as to who got the half dollar.

A "sea scouting" talk giving the real inside story of the boys and their work was given by Gene Grattan as a man who knows his ropes. He stated that the purpose of this branch of scouting was to help the boys to become successful, even as is the work of the lads who stay ashore. Boys in this group have outgrown the boy scout activities and prefer to associate with the older boys. The sea scout movement that takes boys just when they leave the boy scouts and gives them a new and interesting line of work was started but recently and already the local patrol has become one of the best in the country.

These lads take great pride in the ownership of their boat and other properties and show a real responsibility for their own behavior and that of their associates. Their attendance has been practically 100 per cent even under the most trying circumstances, according to Mr. Grattan.

These boys enjoy a contest and have had some real sport on the bay in contest with the elements. Their accomplishments are a source of much interest and pride, creating a friendly rivalry within the group. They do a great deal of thinking for themselves and only need proper guidance to accomplish the best results. A leader of these groups must above all have a memory of his ideas and temperament when he was a boy that he can better sympathize with

LOCAL FIRE BOYS PLAN FEED WITH BURBANK SMOKE EATERS

At a meeting of the Campbell fire company Monday night plans were discussed for a banquet to be held at the Community hall March 23 at which will be present local firemen and their wives and the fire boys from Burbank, who will also be accompanied by their wives. One hundred places will be required, it is reported.

Horace Lea was appointed chairman of the committee on arrangements.

At this meeting a resolution extending thanks to the people of Campbell for their support of the recent firemen's show was passed.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA WILL BE HEARD ON RADIO MONDAY NITE

At the San Jose Chamber of Commerce program to be broadcast from the St. Claire Monday night will be heard the Campbell High School orchestra, A. A. Thielke, director. The purpose of the local band in appearing on the program is to advertise the coming opera, "Pinafore," which is to be put on by the high school students.

The young local musicians will be on the air between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock.

these boys. Responsibility must be placed on their shoulders and proper praise given for their good performances. Judgment as to a boy's capacity should be exercised that he be not given tasks too hard, because failure is discouraging.

Mr. Grattan extended an invitation to Kiwanians to visit their quarters preferably on a Thursday evening.

Maj. J. J. Stafford will give a talk on "An Irishman Abroad" at next Tuesday's meeting and James Dempsey will be chairman of the day with B. O. Curry as aide-de-campe.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL TO BE DISCUSSED TONITE AT CAMBRIAN MEET

This meeting is being called by the Campbell Union High School P. T. A. of which Mrs. S. N. Hedeberg is president. Meeting will be sponsored in Cambrian district by the Home and School club, Mrs. H. J. James, president.

The first mass meeting was held in Campbell. Plans are being made to hold meetings in Union, Moreland, Meridian, and San Tomas districts.

Salmon in Millions
In some Alaskan streams salmon have at times appeared in such massed numbers as to make it seem that the channel was almost solidly filled with fish. This, however, occurs only during brief periods at the height of the annual runs or migrations of adult salmon from the sea to streams for spawning purposes.

What is the "Carcass" of a TIRE?

You can't see it—yet it largely decides how long a tire will last.

THE "carcass" of a tire is the body composed of plies of cord fabric. It is continually being flexed, bent and punched between the road and the wheel.

It has to be built of elastic cords, cords that can stretch and "come back" repeatedly. The more elastic these cords and the more stretch they stand before breaking—the more miles of trouble-free service you get.

Repairing all kinds of tires, as we do, has shown us the great superiority of the SUPER-TWIST cords used in Goodyear tires. SUPER-TWIST cords—patented by Goodyear—stretch 60% further than regular cord, flex and recover almost limitlessly. They make early blowouts, sidewall breaks, etc., almost a curiosity. Even after long service, when an ordinary "good" tire would be broken down, the average SUPERTWIST body is still lively, sound and worth repairing or retreading.

It hurts the repair business to sell Goodyears, but it makes us a lot of friends.

"What was the idea of that story Mother read us last night?" asked Billie Bunny of her brother one morning as they were dressing.

"The idea of it was that you should always tell your Mother when you are going to do anything. For instance, when you go away, you should tell your Mother, or your father, where you are going and—"

"Always?" asked Billie.
"Yes, always for they might want you and then they would not know where to look. Someone might come with a lot of carrot pie for you and if Mother didn't know where you were, you wouldn't get the carrots—see?"

"I guess I see now. But this is Saturday and I'll help Mother while you go to the store," said Billie.

When breakfast was over, Bobbie started for the store while Billie began to help her Mother dust the house. "I wish Mrs. Squirrel would come with her bushy tail and dust for us," laughed Billie.

By and bye Billie got as far as the pantry. There she saw a large jar of jam. She dusted all around it and all the while it was bothering her. Finally she took a little bit of it and it DID taste so good. "I guess I ought to tell Mother where I am," she thought. All the while the jam was worrying her.

Temptation got the better of her and off came the lid of the jar and into it went Billie!

When the little Rabbit was full of jam, she sneaked out into the parlor and there was her Mother.

"Oh! What in the world is this thing," Mother Rabbit acted as though she were frightened to death. "Get out of my home!" she shrieked. "It's your little Billie," pleaded the little one.

"I don't believe any one of my children look like you."

"Let me kiss you," whined Billie.

"No, with that face!" exclaimed Mother Rabbit.

"I'll never do it again, Mother!" cried Billie.

"Then wash your face and I'll let you kiss me," answered the Mother, trying hard to keep back a smile.
